Heavier Receipts Are Due
To Boost in Tax to 3
Cents Report Reveals

ORANGE COUNTY'S share of the state gas tax collected here will total approximately $273,000 during the present fiscal year, County Auditor W. C. Jerome estimated today. Jerome looks for an increase of $30,000 over last year's receipts from this source.

The first apportionment on December 31 amounted to $127,687.91. The second one, in June, is expected to swell the total to the figure which Jerome announced.

In the state as a whole an increase of 33 per cent, or $8,267,537 in 1928 gasoline tax collections was reported today. Last year's totals were $32,711,647 as compared to $24,443,137 for 1927.

According to Jerome, a large part of this increase last year in Orange county and California was due to the fact that the gas tax was increased from two to three cents per gallon, effective July 29, 1927. While gasoline was subject to the additional tax throughout 1928 but only for one-half of 1927.

He pointed out that the three cent tax is divided between the state and the counties. The state receives one cent for building of primary roads. From the remaining two cents the state deducts the cost of handling and administration. The remaining sum is split between the state and counties. The state's portion is used for main highways while the counties' share is utilized for building of roads, bridges and culverts.

The three dollar auto license tax and bus tax are used in much the same manner. After deducting the handling cost and cost of license plates the remainder is split between the state and the counties. The same restrictions on its use are retained as in the gasoline tax fund. First, however, the salaries of state motor officers in each county are deducted from the counties' portions. Ordinarily this leaves but a small sum for county road purposes.

Proposed Increase of $24-
000,000 for Dry Work
To Be Killed In House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—While the $24,000,000 prohibition increase was being led to a conference committee, both houses of congress occupied themselves with appropriations for next year's national defense as provided in the war and navy department supply bills.

The senate took up the war department bill during a lull in the cruiser fight, while the house considered the naval appropriation bill. Although not yet in final form, both measures authorize a material increase over expenditures for defense during the current year.

The cruiser bill is not affected by these routine matters and will be voted upon late Monday.

There seemed little doubt that the proposed increase for prohibition enforcement would be lopped off before the bill is sent to President Coolidge.

House leaders appointed two of three conferees who can be expected to wield the axe.

All that remains is to work out the details of the decapitation to avoid a new uproar when the report comes back to the senate for ratification.

Debate on the cruiser bill has proceeded so well the senate may adjourn over Saturday for the first time this session. Senator Hiram Johnson of California closed the case of adherents of the bill in a speech yesterday, charging the Washington disarmament treaty was "a fraud, a delusion and a snare" as far as the United States is concerned.

Johnson argued the United States did not get parity with Great Britain in accordance with the 5-5-3 ratio. He said America has discovered after she came out of conferences with European statesmen, that "somehow or another we always got the worst of the deal."

The California orator pleaded for preparedness and self defense, decrying efforts of what he called "women's five o'clock tea clubs, 9 o'clock Monday clubs, 3 o'clock Tuesday clubs and 6 o'clock Wednesday clubs."

"If you want parity the only way you will get it is to build a navy equal to Great Britain," said Johnson.

It was explained that "Zur Einheitlichen Feldtheorie" is the latest brain-child of Professor Albert Einstein, a theory which may make the law of gravitation as obsolete as horse cars and which is almost as difficult to understand as it is

Wall Street Assumes Elder
Rockefeller Will Take An Active Part

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(UP)—John D. Rockefeller, the 89 year old creator of the Standard Oil company, is definitely behind his son, John D. Jr., in his fight to unseat Robert W. Stewart as head of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

Whether he will take active part in lining up proxies for the stockholders meeting March 7 the elder Rockefeller's statement, issued here last night, did not make clear. Wall Street, however, assumed he would use his influence in that direction.

Hitherto silent, the aged oil man indicated he viewed his son's battle as a moral issue. Himself once attacked for his methods in building up Standard Oil, he made plain that "good conscience" forced his son to oppose Stewart for dealings that brought him under senate fire.

Besides, he added, the best welfare of Indiana Standard and "large corporate interests in general" demanded Stewart's ousting.

His statement, issued at Standard Oil offices here while he was vacationing in Florida, was a direct answer to Stewart's declaration here Jan. 18 that "Mr. Rockefeller has never intimated to me that he was dissatisfied with my conduct, and I don't believe he ever will."

"What do I think of Einstein's theory?" responded "Texas" Guinan as she extended a "big hand" to the information-seeker. "I think it's about time we had something like that. Maybe now the world will be a better place to live in. What do you think?"

The reporter said he didn't. "Okay, son. That's the way to use your head," she retorted.

Undaunted, the reporter went to the Paramount movie studios.

ANOTHER COLD
WAVE STRIKES

Zero Temperature Brought
In On Wings of Howling
Gale Early Today

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The seventh wave of zero temperatures since the new year was carried into Chicago and the Great Lakes area today on the wings of a howling gale.

The new cold wave followed a heavy snow in Chicago yesterday which required several thousand extra employees to clear the streets.

John Dithmer, 23, a student of Purdue university and former captain of the Purdue swimming team, was killed and two companions injured when their automobile skidded into a bridge near Lebanon, Ind.

A blizzard raged for 12 hours over Iowa and eastern Nebraska, impeding railroad traffic and hampering wire communications. The storm forced Jack Story, air-mail pilot, to "step out" of his plane near Davenport, Iowa. He landed safely with his parachute near that city.

Another pilot, Ernest Stafford, flying from Coldwater, Mich., to Chicago, crashed in the ice floes of Lake Michigan near Michigan City, Ind. He escaped serious injury and was rescued by the coast guard.

Three Grand Trunk car ferries, ice bound in Lake Michigan near Grand Haven were freed by the ice breaker Comrade Stark after several days' imprisonment.

Despite the blizzard, state highway crews succeeded in cutting a path to the village of Colesburg, Iowa, which had been isolated by snow and ice for nearly two weeks. Fuel and provisions were being carried in to the village today.

PARISH PRISON, Franklin, La., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Two figures in a small town "love affair"—a married woman and a married man whose illicit scheming led finally to the murder of the woman's husband—paid for it all today with two snaps of a gallows trap in the little vine covered parish prison here.

Mrs. Ada Leboff was hanged at 12:03 p. m. She was pronounced dead at 12:27 p. m. Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, the family physician who had conspired with her in love and murder, followed her through the gallows at 12:35 p. m.

Both had been convicted and sentenced to death for killing James Leboff, the woman's husband.

Coolidge Says
Fortunes Help
All Of Nation

Material Prosperity Taken
Up In Speech Delivered
This Afternoon

By ROBERT MOOREFIELD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MOUNTAIN LAKE, Fla., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Under America's spiritual and material prosperity, persons of moderate means enjoy greater advantages and affluence than at any other time in the nation's history, President Coolidge said in a dedicatory address here today at the Edward Bok singing tower and bird sanctuary.

Referring to this class of citizenry, which includes the great mass of wage earners, the President said: "Not only is their income proportionately greater than ever before, but their whole method of life, their opportunities to secure benefits which but a short time ago were the exclusive possession of the rich, have been tremendously increased."

At one point the President directed attention to the fact that fortunes are amassed not so much for "selfish and ostentatious display," but rather for charities and endowments which "have never been tainted with any effort to hold back the rising tide of a demand for the abolition of privilege and the establishment of equality, but have rather been the result of a sincere philanthropy."

"While giving every credit to the genius of management, and holding strictly to the right of individual possessions, we realize that to a considerable extent wealth is the creation of the people," Mr. Coolidge said, "and it is fitting, as in this case, that it should be expended for their material, intellectual, and moral development."

Wealth's Distinction Gone
The distinction that wealth once carried is gone, in the President's opinion. Continuing, he said:

"It is also doubtful if there ever was a time when even great wealth gave its possessors so little power as at present. Their money is of little value in determining political action. Capital is so easily secured for any promising enterprise that it goes into business, even on an extensive scale. The possession of money has never been sufficient to gain the social attentions of persons of culture and refinement."

The President pointed out that the very nature of America's development made mandatory a strict attention to the material side of life, but he was careful to emphasize the need of a spiritual and artistic quality.

"The material prosperity of our nation will be of little avail unless it is translated into a spiritual prosperity," Mr. Coolidge said. "We need a deeper realization of the value and power of beauty."

It was the happy balance of these elements that had given America its success, Mr. Coolidge pointed out.

"It would be a mistake to suppose that the organization of the material side of existence has been completed," the President said at one point. "It is more likely that it has only begun. But it has progressed far enough so that a moderate amount of industry and thrift is all that is needed to relieve the

WHEREABOUTS OF NOTED EVANGELIST
MYSTERY; BELIEVED TO BE ON PLANE
SEVERAL HOURS OVER DUE IN OAKLAND

OAKLAND, Feb. 1.—(UP)—An airplane bearing Aimee Semple McPherson from Los Angeles to the municipal airport here was two hours overdue today.

Airport officials said that Mrs. McPherson had left the Bakersfield airport in a Ryan monoplane at 8 a. m. and should have arrived here shortly after 12 noon.

The word issuing from Oakland airport was the first concerning the famous evangelist since she left Los Angeles late yesterday after completing her testimony before the state legislative committee investigating a $2500 check she paid Superior Judge Carlos Hardy.

Mrs. McPherson's method of exit from Los Angeles is unknown. It was announced that she left by train and later Angelus Temple officials said they believed she was traveling toward Vancouver, B. C., by automobile.

It was known that the evangelist planned to take a plane to speed her journey, but it was thought that the air contact was to be made at Oakland or San Francisco.

According to the Oakland airport officials, she secretly entered a private plane at Bakersfield.

DEFENSE COMPLETES EVIDENCE IN KEYES BRIBE CASE TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The evidence on which a jury of 10 women and two men will base its decision in the conspiracy to bribe case against Asa Keyes, former district attorney, and others was completed today.

The state and defense both rested after a final rebuttal witness, Milton Pike, was recalled to the stand by the prosecution. Pike merely refuted the testimony that he planned to blackmail Ben Getzoff and Ed Rosenberg, co-defendants with Keyes.

Pike, who testified to many meetings between the defendants and to the conspiracy to free Julian Petroleum corporation defendants through bribing Keyes, denied that the thought of obtaining money from Getzoff or Rosenberg ever had entered his mind.

Deputy District Attorney William Simpson opened arguments for the state, outlining the evidence presented by the state and preparing for the other prosecution arguments to be made by William Clark, Robert Stewart and District Attorney Byron Fitts.

Th estate, through a long series of witnesses, charged that Keyes received the greater share of $165,000 in cash and gifts to influence the verdict of the Julian Petroleum corporation trial when he was trying it.

This money and the gifts, it was claimed, came from Ed Rosenberg and Jacob Berman, defendants in the Julian case.

Among other things, Keyes' new home in Beverly Hills, his new automobile, his daughter's new car, furniture, wrist watches and other gifts came from men he was supposedly prosecuting.

Rosenberg paid out the greatest sum, $125,000, while Berman contributed $40,000, the state charged. All this money was handled through Ben Getzoff, a Spring street tailor, it was contended.

The defense placed Keyes and Rosenberg and a host of other witnesses on the stand to combat the charges.

OWENS VALLEY LAND
PURCHASED BY L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The board of water and power commissioners today was taking steps to purchase all the remaining privately owned water districts in Owens valley for the city of Los Angeles, John R. Richards, president of the board, announced.

Purchase of the additional land was authorized by the commission in response to requests from several residents of the district who have expressed a desire to sell, Richards said.

The price to be paid for the remaining privately owned land will be the same as those previously paid by the city in obtaining some 200,000 acres in the valley. Purchases will be made directly with individual owners, it was said.

ARIZONA SEEKING RIVER CONFERENCE

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 1.—(UP)—The Arizona Colorado river commission was eager today to join California and Nevada in tri-state conference next week if the governor of an unnamed neighboring state will call the meeting.

The decision came after an all-day conference. Governor Phillips said he had negotiated with a governor of one of the upper basin states to call such a meeting but that no details will be made public until the official has agreed.

Action of the commission was backed by the legislature, which had under consideration another bill providing for a new river commission of five members, including the governor. The bill was introduced in the house and specifies that the four members be named by the governor without senate confirmation.

DeMille, head of the company, last night told the court that Miss Gould frequently walked from sets, disturbed shooting schedules and destroyed wardrobe plans just because she was temperamental. He held this was sufficient reason for his terminating her contract.

For some unknown reason the special session last night was held at a Hollywood studio, where some good group pictures of Superior Judge Yankwich, Miss Gould, DeMille and the various attorneys were taken.

WE SERVE

Several days ago a story appeared in the Register telling of the burglary of the home of Harry Lewis, just outside the Santa Ana city limits. This story led to the arrest of the burglar and the recovery of the articles taken from the home.

Following is a letter received by The Register today from Mr. and Mrs. Lewis:

Editor, Register:
Just a word of thanks to you for publishing Monday evening a report from the sheriff's office of a burglary in our home last week. This notice assisted the officers in capturing the thief and in returning our property. Also express our thanks to F. W. Howard and to John Stanton, chief of police of Tustin for their kind attention and persistence in the matter.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY LEWIS.

A small Tustin boy saw the story in The Register. He cut it out, took it to the officers and reported that he knew a boy who had one of the rings reported stolen from the Lewis home. From that point the officers hurriedly closed up the case.

Chambers Body Indorses Union Junior College Move

ADD MEMBERS TO COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

The educational committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce was directed by that body, at its meeting in Placentia last night, to continue its efforts to procure adoption, by the state legislature, of an amendment to the present law to provide for organization of the union junior college districts. The present law provides only for the annexation of high school districts to junior college districts and does not make provision for representation of the annexed districts on the board of education.

As chairman of the committee, H. A. Lake reported on the meeting of the committee in this city 10 days ago, when recommendation was made that a third junior college district be organized unless Santa Ana and Fullerton boards of education were willing to cooperate in a county college program or a southern orange county junior college in event the Santa Ana board of education looked with favor on such a project.

S. A. Board Agrees
W. B. Mandeville, of Huntington Beach, as a member of the committee appointed to confer with the Fullerton board, reported that his inference from conversations with the Fullerton board was that cooperation in a county college plan could not be expected. Reporting for a committee appointed to interview the Santa Ana board of education, George Raymer said that the Santa Ana body was agreeable to either a county or a south-county institution.

Winthrop Bowen, Placentia, member of the Fullerton board, said the board had acted virtually without having the opinion of residents of the district as to whether Fullerton should continue its college or join in a county movement. He asked that residents of districts within the Fullerton college boundaries express themselves at the meeting.

O. T. Stevens, of La Habra, expressed himself in favor of two colleges in the county, declaring his opinion that students would benefit by the closer personal touch than would obtain in colleges with small enrollments. Ralph McFadden, Placentia, declared in favor of a county college. Albert Launer, La Habra, expressed favor for a northern Orange county college.

Bowen explained that at the time of the conference with the chamber committee, the impression prevailed that Santa Ana would not participate in a county college program. Following the meeting last night he stated that in view of expressions made at the meeting, the Fullerton board would proceed with purchase of ground for a new college in Fullerton.

great mass of our people from the pinch of poverty, and when these are supplemented with such training and skill as it is possible for almost anyone to acquire to raise them to a position of comparative affluence.

Mr. Coolidge referred to the Bok sanctuary as "another evidence of the breadth and completeness of the life of our Republic."

Nation's Progress
He then launched into a discussion of the artistic as well as the general progress of the nation. He said:

"When we erected our institutions on the basic theory of equality, our ability under such conditions to produce the finer things of life was immediately challenged. The correctness of our theory has been more and more demonstrated by the course of events. * * * Our artistic growth has been constant and in its individual examples and its general application is not excelled by any other people.

"In its main purpose to create a nation and increase intelligence, stability, and character our Republic has met with unexampled success. * * *

"Our institutions have endowed our people with insight and vision. The individual has been developed, the nation has become great. The belief that there is nothing which our people cannot do, and no power which our people ought not to have, has been the main source of our progress."

The Bok singing tower is one of thirty in the country. Almost a year was required in the manufacture of the 61 bells.

enlarged, Lake was given authority to select additional members and he later announced the addition of Haven Smith, Orange; M. A. Gauer, Anaheim; J. E. Malcolm, Capistrano; S. W. Stanley, Tustin; T. E. Stephenson, Dr. John Ball and Dr. R. A. Cushman, Santa Ana. In reply to a suggestion that his committee be enlarged still further to contain a representative from every organization identified with the chambers, Lake said the committee selected represented all the high school districts in the county, the districts being more concerned with the college project. He said, however, that invitations to meetings of the committee would be sent to any representative named by any of the organizations.

TELEPHONE COMPANY TO GIVE TIME OF DAY TO SUBSCRIBERS

Every telephone a timepiece. That's the slogan adopted today in Santa Ana by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, according to an announcement by Earl Morrow, district manager.

When the clock stops the telephone will be on the job, 24 hours a day. Not only that but it will give you the time down to the half minute. This service will be launched by all Bell system telephones on the Pacific coast, according to Morrow.

In order to learn the time of day all that will be necessary is to lift the receiver from the hook and ask the operator.

"This seemingly small service amounts to an enormous number of calls when the more than a million telephones operated by Bell companies on the Pacific coast are taken into account," said Morrow. "We have wished for a long time to render this service, but rapid growth of other demands on telephone facilities following the war, and the growth of this part of the country have made it impracticable. We are now equipped to give out the time of day without interfering with regular telephone service, and it is with pleasure that we make this announcement."

EINSTEIN THEORY? IF IT MAKES NO 'DIFF' TO YOU, WE'LL TAKE A BAKED APPLE

"Einstein's theory?" Hmm—Oh, yes, sure," commented Nnacy Carroll. "It's so easy to understand. He must have been the gentleman who invented the time-table."

A press agent overheard the conversation.

"Stick around a while," he whispered. "I've just wired Clara Bow in Hollywood for her comment. I'll give you a scoop."

Ten minutes later the press agent handed the correspondent the following, which he alleged was a telegram from Clara herself:

"Yes, I've seen a few eyefuls about the theory in the newspapers. It's as easy to understand as a director's mind and as simple as anscrit. Ha ha or ho hum!"

City hall was the next stop.

Mayor Walker was too busy to discuss science, his secretary said.

but he would not object to having the newspapers say his honor would not contradict Prof. Einstein.

Then the correspondent decided to find out what the Einstein—the New York Einstein—thought about their namesake's "Zur Einsteinen Feldtheorie."

Mrs. Jacob Einstein of 748 East Fifth street, said she'd read all about the professor but she couldn't understand him. If he is a candidate for congress, she said, she is sorry she can't vote for him because she has already used up last November's ballot.

MODERN 'NOAH' PREPARES FOR GREAT DELUGE

OLYMPIA, Wn., Feb. 1.—(UP)—The "Ark of the Pacific Coast," built to carry followers of the Lord to higher lands when He floods the Pacific Coast, rides on Puget Sound under the shadows of the dome of the state capitol.

The "Ark," built by a hermit named William Greenfield, is one of the strangest ships ever constructed.

Modern Noah

Youth, middle-aged and aged are following in the paths of sin, says Greenfield, who has termed himself "captain" of the queer craft, and who has built the "Ark" in answer to God's revelations, to carry him and non-sinners across the ocean to higher lands when He invokes the penalty on sinners.

"Captain" Greenfield is aided in his work by one known to him as Michael. The "Twentieth Century Noah" says that God named Michael to assist him in preparing the vessel.

The vessel floats peacefully on the harbor awaiting the call which Michael says will come in two years, and which Greenfield says will come in one year, apparently neither knowing just when the deluge is to inundate the Pacific Coast.

Not for Animals

Greenfield has made it plain that he will not carry any animals with him when he takes the journey. He plans on making only a short voyage with the ship.

The hull of the craft was constructed by Greenfield at an Olympia mill in 1922, and floated to its present location, where at low tide it rests in a specially constructed cradle to keep it clear of mud.

The boat is anchored near the end of one of the arms of Puget Sound, approximately a mile from the dome of the new capitol. One inspired by man and the other by God, so says the "prophet."

Piano for Hymns

The first deck of the "sin-saver" is fitted up for living quarters, where the modern "Noah" spends much of his time, probably pondering over the present state of the world. The tiny room, in which he meditates, is jammed with odds and ends. A small piano, in need of tuning, fills one corner. It is to be used by Greenfield after the "Ark" has landed on dry land, for singing hymns of praise.

The room is lined with sheet-metal and painted white. Toward the stern another room is located, to be used as a guest room for visitors. A narrow walk is provided along the rail of the stern where a ladder leads upward to the top of the deck. This deck is roofed over to keep the rains, that are slated to fall during the tidal wave, back.

Greenfield is of slight build, medium height and about 60 years of age. He is of English descent, speaking with an English accent, but was born in Illinois.

The prophecies of Greenfield do not bother the folk of this little city.

The Rev. Father Railey announces that there will be but one service at St. Ann's church Sunday, Mass. will be held at 9 o'clock. Father Railey has not been well for some time.

A group of Seal Beach friends paid a surprise visit to Mrs. Al Morris at her new home in San Pedro, Wednesday. They were Mrs. E. W. Reed, Mrs. Marion F. Shupe and son, Gordon, Mrs. Frank Haskell and Miss Elsie McClelland.

Miss Elizabeth Snider returned from Stockton Sunday, where she has been a student at college. Miss Elizabeth will continue her studies at the Junior college in Long Beach.

Mrs. Kathryn Ater is spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Jessie Havens.

PLAYERS GIVEN PERMIT TO GO AHEAD ON PLAY

Coincident with the announcement that tickets for the Santa Ana Community Players' production of "Her Temporary Husband," on February 7, 8 and 9, were to go on sale tomorrow in the new Santa Ana Book store, in the Spurgeon building, was an interesting tale related today by William H. Spurgeon, president of the Players association, regarding the difficulties attending the securing of "Her Temporary Husband" as a vehicle for the local group.

Plans for presenting the play were made a number of weeks ago by the director, Marian Helm Williams, and a well-chosen cast was selected as soon as the books were secured. On January 24, Robert L. Brown, business manager of the association was notified by the Los Angeles branch of the play-publishing house that "professional interests had refused to release the play, 'Her Temporary Husband,' for the Santa Ana Players' production owing to previous professional contracts."

Since so much work had been done on the play and the opening performance only a bare two weeks away, the situation was considered desperate by those directly interested.

At this point Spurgeon dispatched a telegram directed to Samuel French, explaining the situation and the financial loss involved were the production cancelled.

Immediate response to the message came from no less a person than Samuel French himself and those who have seen his telegram have been struck by the spirit of co-operation as evidenced in his decision that the Santa Ana organization should produce the play as originally planned.

Associated Chambers Fail To Indorse Harbor Measure

OPPOSITION TO MAJORITY VOTE PLAN IS VOICED

That the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County may not indorse the bill introduced in the state legislature by Senator N. T. Edwards, by request, for the creation of a harbor district embracing the whole of Orange county was indicated at the meeting of the body in Placentia, last night, when the bill was referred to the legislative committee for further consideration and for a recommendation at the February meeting, to be held in Costa Mesa.

This action was taken in face of the fact that members of the committee present declared themselves as opposed to the measure because of its provision that bonds be voted on a straight majority vote instead of by a two-thirds vote.

Reference of the measure to the committee concluded a debate that at times waxed a little hot, with intimations that residents of certain sections of the county were opposed to the majority rule in this proposition while they were favorable to flood control and water conservation bills creating the situation of a majority ruling on bond issues.

Lew H. Wallace and George Peabody, veterans of many battles in behalf of the Orange county harbor, again were found fighting shoulder to shoulder for the project they have championed for so many years.

Of County Importance
"I love a fight and believe a harbor bond issue could be put over on a two-thirds vote," Wallace said, in explaining that it was not the intention of those promoting the new bill to "slip anything over" on the public.

He pointed to the majority rule under the Orange county flood control bill and declared his belief that improvement of Newport bay by county assistance was virtually as important to the future of the county as is flood control and water conservation.

"I am in favor of harbor improvement, but I am opposed to this measure because of its majority rule provision," said Ralph McFadden, of Placentia, a member of the legislative committee. J. A. Smiley, chairman of the committee, declared against the straight majority vote provision.

"The measure was predicated on the flood control bill and there was no objection to the bill setting up the machinery for creation of the district here because it provided that bonds might be issued on a majority vote," said O. T. Stevens, of La Habra, and he added that there are sections of Orange county that would not benefit by anything that is done in the way of controlling floods and conserving waste waters of the county.

"I believe the people of Orange county feel that they should assist in financing improvement of the harbor," said J. F. Burke, and he emphatically declared his belief

O'NEILL RANCH LAND COULD BE SECURED FOR STATE PARK SITE FOR $4,000,000, BELIEF

Residents from all parts of the county crowded the Women's clubhouse, in Placentia, last night, for the January meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce in anticipation of some "fire works" incident to discussion of projects in which the entire county is interested. For the first time in many years delegates were present from all but two of the organizations composing the county body.

The attendance was estimated at 135.

J. A. Smiley, chairman of the legislative committee, reported that his committee had voted approval of a measure introduced in the legislature prohibiting use of solid tires on trucks after Jan. 1, 1933.

George Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, presented a report on results of a meeting of the park committee in Santa Ana, recently, when sites to be submitted as state park projects were discussed. He reported that the Southern California state park committee would meet with the state park commission in the Yosemite valley on February 16, when it is probable that elimination of the sites will be started in an effort to reach the point where the commission might definitely recommend sites that should be made state projects.

W. H. Griswold, of Capistrano, again presented the Santa Marguerita ranch property for consideration, intimating that the 217,000-acre division of the O'Neill ranch could be purchased for approximately $4,000,000. He said the acreage contained about 18 miles of ocean front and extended 36 miles back into the mountains.

that a majority vote should rule in the matter of voting bonds for the harbor as well as in all matters involving bonds.

Hale Opposes Bill
H. H. Hale, of Placentia, president of the Associated Chambers, declared himself in favor of the harbor, but opposed to the harbor bill for the same reason others had expressed opposition.

McFadden pointed out that machinery already had been set up for voting bonds for the harbor and that the only difference between the present law and the proposed measure is that the former provides that bonds shall be issued only on a two-thirds vote.

Discussion of the bill followed the presentation by Wallace, of a resolution urging continued government support for surveys of the harbor.

The resolution contained assurance of the chambers that the county would match government dollars in building a port at Newport bay and that financing by Orange county would be done "along the lines of a measure now before the state legislature." The quoted portion was objectionable because of the majority provision in the measure and the resolution was not adopted until reference to "measure now before the state legislature" was eliminated.

U. S. ENGINEER ASKS FURTHER HARBOR DATA

A supplementary report on Newport harbor will be filed within 30 days by Harry Welch and George Peabody, Newport's representatives at the harbor hearing conducted in the beach city today by Maj. C. P. Gross, U. S. district engineer, and Major Gross probably will delay his report to the war department for one year.

Peabody and Welch presented a written report on the port and they and other Newport residents answered questions asked by Major Gross.

It was stated, in reply to a question, that the city plans to call a harbor bond issue of $155,000 to make improvements suggested recently by a board of three engineers.

Major Gross expressed a desire for further information and gave Welch and Peabody a month in which to make the supplementary report.

Col. C. T. Leeds, one of the engineers employed by Newport to report on the harbor, asked Major Gross to delay his report to the government for one year, pointing out that the city is planning a harbor improvement campaign.

Harbor boosters asked the hearing in order to gain government assistance for the port.

Local Briefs

Miss Agnes Hill, of Garden Grove, stenographer in the county aid department, will leave tomorrow for Laurel, Miss., accompanied by her father, J. K. Hill, to be at the bedside of her mother, who is reported to be extremely ill. The position vacated by Miss Hill will be filled by Miss Violet Rubins, at present working in the office of the farm advisor.

Two Plead Guilty, One Not Guilty In Delinquency Case

Jack Kinser, J. B. Talley and Lucy Martinez, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl, took different paths today when they were arraigned before Presiding Judge James L. Allen. Talley and the Martinez woman pleaded guilty and asked for probation. Kinser, when arraigned on an information filed by Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman, pleaded not guilty.

Kinser waived his right to a jury trial under the new state law which permits the defendant to stand trial without a jury. He was the second defendant to waive the jury in Orange county since the law was passed.

The court set his trial for 5:30 a. m., February 11. Probation hearings for Talley and Lucy Martinez were scheduled for 9:30 a. m., February 8.

TWO-HEADED SNAKE

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 1.—A two-headed king snake, found near Roma, Ill., by Tommy O'Hara, 9-year-old schoolboy, is thriving in the St. Louis zoo.

The snake's only difficulty, according to R. Marlin Perkins, superintendent of the reptile house at the zoo, is the fact that the two heads sometimes have different impulses. "When one head wants to travel," says Perkins, "the other head feels like napping. Therefore the snake can't crawl very fast."

"The left head is the best eater, but the right seems to be more assertive."

MAN FORGIVES WIFE FOR HER INDISCRETIONS

Mrs. Josephine Frias, of Delhi, had completed the domestic circle of experience today. After leaving her husband because of alleged ill treatment from his sons, she was received in the home of another man's mother, where she lived until official cognizance of the situation was taken by authorities and a charge of adultery was placed against her.

Mrs. Frias asked for probation, after pleading guilty. Probation was granted providing she agreed to stay with a family in Olive. For several weeks she has been living there. But today she appeared in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court and requested to be allowed to return to her husband.

Her request was allowed after Frias, himself, took the witness stand and agreed to care for his wife, who is expected to become a mother in the near future.

1929 Cupid Runs Close Race With His Rival Of 1928

The baby year 1929 already is beginning to run 1928 a close race as far as marriage licenses are concerned, it was revealed today. Despite the fact that 1928 was leap year, January of this year was behind it less than one license a day, according to figures revealed today by County Clerk J. M. Backs.

In January of this year 265 permits were issued, while in January, 1928, the total was 285. This difference of 20 is less than one a day. Whether the present year will surpass last in number of licenses issued is a matter of speculation, particularly with the state legislature arguing over the proposal to repeal the so-called "gin marriage" law, under which the state now operates.

NEW OFFICERS ARE NAMED BY 'LADY FIREMEN' FOR FEBRUARY

Reorganization of the Women's auxiliary of the Orange County Firemen's association was effected at a meeting of the auxiliary and association in the city hall, Brea, last night.

Mrs. L. J. Robeson, Buena Park, was elected president; Mrs. R. R. Davis, Fullerton, vice president, and Mrs. Grover Waters, Fullerton, secretary-treasurer.

The auxiliary has been organized to assist firemen in handling the big convention of the state firemen's association, to be held in Fullerton in August.

Explanation was made by W. A. Myers, president of the state association, of seven bills introduced in the legislature affecting firemen. The president made comments favorable to all of them.

Bids submitted for publishing the annual convention number of the State Firemen's Journal were rejected. The committee handling the proposition will meet again in the next week.

The dinner preceding the meeting was prepared and served by members of the Brea department.

ORCHESTRA AND TREBLE CLUB WIN OUTSTANDING APPLAUSE IN SEASON'S FIRST CONCERT

By RUTH ANDREWS

Presenting the initial concert program of its winter series in the Santa Ana high school auditorium, last night, under the direction of D. C. Cianfoni, the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra of 60 members was heard to outstanding advantage by one of the most thoroughly appreciative audiences in the history of the organization.

The event also marked the first formal appearance of the new Treble Clef club, women's choral ensemble of 80 members.

Recently founded by Cianfoni and rapidly brought to a fine peak of perfection under able direction of Margherita Marsden, the club already has come to fill a place of prominence among musical organizations here. It was heard last night, together with the orchestra, in one of the most satisfying musical programs ever offered for enjoyment of Santa Ana patrons.

Broadcast by KWTC
Broadcast over KWTC through the courtesy of the Santa Ana Breakfast club, with Karl Haverlin, of KFI fame, as announcer, the admirably-varied symphonic program was opened by glowing, joyous gaiety of Mozart's evergreen overture from the "Magic Flute." Considered the immortal composer's masterpiece, rippling animato of this favorite classic demanded remarkable co-ordination, met by the orchestra's instrumentation with facile grace. Vividly dramatic, the presto finale brought forth warm applause.

Light grace and sweet simplicity characterized the dainty, tinkling "Menuet" from Haydn's "Military Symphony." Having stood the test of nearly two centuries, the never-fading freshness of this selection was charmingly reminiscent of a quaint, old-fashioned dance.

Led by Margherita Marsden, whom Santa Ana is more than proud to claim as one of her favorite artists, the Treble Clef club's initial song-group was ardently welcomed by the audience. Mana Zucca's "Top of the Mornin'" was sunnily piquant, the same composer's "Big Brown Bear" making jolly contrast with the sweet sentiment of "Medley from the South" (Pike). Wistful yearning of the old southern melodies struck response in many a heart, while concluding rollicking strains from "Dixie" brought down the house.

Splendid orchestra presentation of Grieg's entire "Peer Gynt Suite" No. 1 won full favor. Shimmering tonal nuances and shifting light and shade of "Morning" made an andante of poetic delicacy, woodwinds and cello well outlined. Deep feeling and solemnity of "Ase's Death" were impressive, monotony of the harmonic pattern adding much to its pathos.

A tantalizing contrast, "Anita's Dance," was typically Oriental, restlessly suggestive, languid undertone of cello beneath its flashing allegro. Wierdly grotesque, "In the Hall of the Mountain King" was excellently presented, gradual acceleration and increasing fervor well done, frenzied tumult of the finale gratifyingly applauded.

Sentimental Appeal
Renewed welcome met the Treble Clef club in its next group. Lyric purity of Rasbach-Harris' "Trees" preceded tender sentimental appeal of Lester's "O Irish Hills," this lovely selection adapted from a familiar Irish folk-song. Humor of Burleigh's Negro spiritual, "O Didn't It Rain," was typical.

Truly the dramatic high-light of the evening, the response accorded the modern symphonic tone-poem, "Finlandia" (Sibelius), proved that Santa Ana wants good music. This number's superior nature makes it the choice of foremost conductors universal. It was certainly splendid to know that here in our own community we have an organization capable of presenting such work.

Instrumentation of "Finlandia"

SAWDUST USED IN PAVING OF CITY STREETS

DORRIS, Calif., Feb. 1.—If the streets of this Siskiyou lumber town don't float away or burn up citizens should be perfectly satisfied with the new paving arrangements.

Irate residents demanded that something be done about the muddy streets, full of holes, through which they floundered daily. Paving was out of the question during the rainy season and the city fathers were at their wit's ends when someone suggested sawdust.

An order on surrounding saw mills brought several tons, which was distributed through the streets and packed down. It has made an excellent paving material and the only thing to worry about is the flood peril now and the fire menace in the summer months.

POP GOES THE GAVEL

CLEVELAND, Feb. 1.—Balliff Gus Hanna is still looking for the person or persons who succeeded in blasting the order of the court presided over by Judge George P. Baer. Gus likes his ceremony. But the other day when his gavel came down at the end of the "Hear ye! Hear ye!" there ensued an explosion which all but routed Gus' dignity. Someone had placed a toy pistol cap where it would do the most good under the balliff's lustrous gavel swing.

THEATER PREMIERE TO BE BROADCAST

KMTR, co-operating with Grauman's Chinese theater, will present a novel program tonight, starting at 8 o'clock, at the grand opening of the new picture, "The Broadway Melody."

The program, to be broadcast from the theater, will bring the usual array of stars before the microphone in the theater lobby. Another microphone, within the theater, will put the musical entertainment on the air.

Fred Niblo, the director and master of ceremonies extraordinary, is to man the outer mike, Earl Burnett's Biltmore trio, heard nightly over KBJ, and whose orchestra is featured in the sound film; Al Boasberg, Hollywood wit; Gus Edwards, Nacio Herb Brown and Arthur Freed, the song writers; Loren Powell's Little symphony and the entire program—all these will contact the public over the inner mike.

NO EASY GAME HERE

The first three opponents on the 1929 Nebraska football schedule are Southern Methodist, Syracuse and Pittsburgh. Then follow games with six midwestern and Missouri valley teams.

LIGHT OPERAS ON PHILCO PROGRAM

Another half hour of light opera selections, featuring Jessica Dragonette as soprano soloist and Collin O'More as tenor soloist, with Harold Sanford as director, will be presented during the weekly Philco program, broadcast from New York through stations of the NBC system tonight, beginning at 6:30, Pacific standard time.

The light operas from which outstanding numbers have been chosen for this program include Lehár's "Gypsy Love," Primm's "Katinka" and Victor Herbert's "Velvet Lady." The theme song from "Gypsy Love" will be sung by O'More, while the orchestra will offer the ever-delightful "Al-lah's Holiday" from "Katinka." Miss Dragonette's solos include "Rachety Koo" from the stage production of the same name. She and O'More have two duets during the program.

BEST BY EARNED RUNS

The best pitcher in the International association in 1928, according to earned runs allowed, was Maurice Bream of Jersey City. He allowed 2.32 runs per game.

ROBERT LOWIE ON TONIGHT'S RCA PROGRAM

Robert H. Lowie, Ph. D., professor of anthropology at the University of California, will present the third educational lecture in the new RCA educational programs during the broadcast through NBC system stations from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight.

Professor Lowie's talk, the subject of which will be announced during the broadcast, is made possible by a special arrangement of the Radio Corporation of America with the department of adult education of the state board of education. While intended for the general public, Professor Lowie's lecture is particularly addressed to some 200,000 adult students now enrolled in and attending the high schools of California at night.

The list of prominent educators who will be heard during the next few weeks has been selected with the assistance of Samuel J. Hume, who, as director of the bureau of vocational education in the California schools, has rendered invaluable service to education by radio as inaugurated by the Radio Corporation of America and the Standard Oil company. Among the leading faculty members of the University of California whose assistance Hume has invoked are David Prall, who spoke on the first program; Dr. T. H. Goodspeed, who spoke last week; Professor Lowie, on tonight's program, and J. M. D. O'Connell, Ph. D., professor of physiology.

In addition to the speakers of the evening, there will be orchestral selections in association with selected readings, given by the RCA orchestra under Max Dolin's direction with Herbert Heyes as reader. Vocal solos will be sung by Margaret O'Dea, contralto, and Edward Randall, baritone.

Member what we Told you a couple of Days ago About Paul Revere. The Costa Mesa Boy, who is Drawing lots of Acclaim and Cash as a Featured artist Before the NBC mikes in San Francisco? Well, here's some More interesting 'Dope' on that Selfsame man: Paul, or William Van Volkenburg, The name which Appears on his Birth certificate, Used to be in The movies and made Many a feminine Heart flutter While doubling for The late Wallace Reid— That part of Van's (Or Paul's) Life came to light Recently when A San Francisco Photographer, who used To be a cinematographer, Dropped around To the NBC studios To pick up a Couple of Van's (Or Paul's) pictures— He was struck by Van's (or Paul's) Likeness to Wally Reid and then It came to him Where he had seen Van (or Paul) before— It seems that Reid Was so ill during the Making of his last Two films that He was used Only in the closeups—

Now it's a talking marathon and we're sure that it must be "a pleasing sound."

Station KEJK, which a few days ago was granted more time on the air and a change in wavelength, has been advised by the federal radio commission that it must broadcast over its present wave for a few days longer. So you'll find KEJK at its old address.

Have you missed the "chawming" voice of Caleb, friends? Well, he'll be back on the air with The Register's news items at 5:45 tonight, so

IF YOU'D STAY HOME NIGHTS YOU WOULDN'T HAVE TO READ ABOUT THE FIGHT THE NEXT NIGHT.

RADIO PROGRAM IS FEATURE OF LIONS MEETING

Broadcasting from "Station Ly-in" featured the program presented yesterday, at the Lions club meeting by Burr Shafer, W. B. Ashford and Andy Anderson. Direct and remote control were used in placing the program on the air, but the wavelengths were sufficient to carry the music and "mouthings" of the participants only to the extreme ends of the dining room at St. Ann's Inn.

The program ran the range of special musical numbers to bedtime stories. News stories of interest only to members of the club purported to reveal more than exciting accounts of members in foreign lands and at distant points within their own native land.

Shafer was the official announcer and, in revealing the program and in making announcements, "hit" at members of the club. In fact the whole program was a burlesque, with virtually every member receiving a "jab."

The program was conceded to be one of the fastest and snappiest the club has had presented in many moons.

Members were reminded by Roy King, chairman, that the club has a party scheduled for February 15, starting with a turkey dinner in the Women's clubhouse, in Orange, and concluding with a dance.

don't forget to tune in KWTC at that time. Work necessitated in the studio by the installation of a remote control line for the broadcast, last night, of the symphony concert, kept Caleb off the air for two nights.

ATTENTION, MISTER CATH-CART: This rain should clear the atmosphere and make for excellent DX conditions, so get busy and let's hear from you.

ASK PUBLICITY ON SENTENCING OF CRIMINALS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—Elimination of secrecy surrounding the granting of paroles and setting sentences by the prison board is sought in two bills proposed to the legislature by Assemblyman Chester Kline of San Jacinto.

The first bill provides that 30 days before the sentence of a prisoner is set, following the expiration of his minimum term of imprisonment under the indeterminate sentence law, the judge before whom he was tried, the district attorney, and the sheriff of the county must be notified.

Notices must be sent to these same officials, according to the second bill, at least 30 days before the prison board meets to grant a prisoner a parole.

MESA SCOUTS CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS

COSTA MESA, Feb. 1.—Troop No. 6, Costa Mesa, with Lloyd Willcutt as Scoutmaster, will complete the first year's work in scouting by the middle of this month. The troop expects to renew its charter at that time.

The boys of this troop range in age from 12 to 15 years. There are 15 active members. They meet each Friday evening in the Scout cabin on the Community church grounds. This troop is sponsored by the Community church.

An enviable record was made by one scout, who advanced in one year from tenderfoot to first class, besides earning 10 merit badges. Some other members of the troop were close followers in this race.

According to Mr. Willcutt they expect to double the membership before the renewal of their charter this month.

Officers of this troop are Willard Conwell, troop scribe, and Jean Willcutt and Chisholm Brown, patrol leaders. Emil Myrehn is assistant scoutmaster, being in charge of a lively group of cubs.

The cubs under the direction of Mr. Myrehn and assistant, R. T. Chittenden, have 26 cubs, ranging in age from nine to 12. They meet in their own cabin on Seventeenth street just off of Newport boulevard every Friday night.

The cubs have been organized about five months.

Bobby Burns, the marimbaphonist, is already known to the members and friends of Calvary church as he was with Dr. Tucker and his Musical Messages when they conducted a series of meetings in Calvary church three years ago.

Sunday morning, Dr. Charles E. Hurlburt, of Garden Grove, will occupy the pulpit.

On February 10, Dr. W. P. White, Pacific coast representative for the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, will speak both morning and evening.

The Rev. Charles Fuller, who has gone east to speak at the Cadle tabernacle, Indianapolis, before the assembly of the Defenders of the Christian Faith, will be back to occupy the pulpit February 17.

Plans have been drawn by a Los Angeles firm of architects for a new home for the seller, Mr. Adams. It is to be built on property owned by him in McKnight's addition. Mr. Hull will do the landscape work on the new home of Mr. Adams.

COSTA MESA LIONS HEAR THRIFT TALK

Dr. C. G. Huston has been ill since Sunday and Charles Dunn presided.

C. R. Van Duyn, of Costa Mesa, was among the visitors.

HARBOR BASEBALL BANQUET TUESDAY

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 31.—The banquet of the Harbor Baseball club will be held at the Costa Mesa clubhouse the evening of February 5.

4 LAGUNA STREETS WILL BE IMPROVED

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 1.—Improvement of First, Second and Third streets and Mermald place, contemplated by the council for a long time, will be under way within a few weeks if proceedings now under way are carried along without unforeseen delays.

The resolution of intention adopted by the council sets the date of public hearing for February 13. It is not expected that any protests will be made which will seriously interfere with the plans adopted by the council, as the matter has been up repeatedly.

The plans which have been set forth by the city engineer call for gutters, walks, paving and ornamental lights.

Though the matter has been discussed for nearly two years and has been before the council on numerous occasions, delays were caused by titles which were not clear and which required much investigation, and also because when the matter was first before the council there was some misunderstanding as to what sort of paving was desired.

ORANGE CLUB HEARS SANTA ANA PASTOR

ORANGE, Feb. 1.—The Rev. Perry G. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, Santa Ana, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions club in the American Legion hall yesterday. Mark Mason was the chairman of the day.

Office Building At Mesa Burned

COSTA MESA, Feb. 1.—The office building of E. A. Spaulding, situated at the corner of Fairview avenue and Nineteenth street, was burned Wednesday afternoon.

The volunteer fire department responded quickly and when the firemen arrived the roof of the next building was just starting to blaze.

The department was hindered, according to Fire Chief Lewis, by the lack of sufficient equipment. A ladder and pike poles should be secured immediately, he declared. The fire was placed under control just as the chemical tank was emptied.

This was the first time that the new bell has been used officially, and apparently it "alarmed" beautifully, as the whole town turned out to see how the new department functioned.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

To Neutralize Acidity and Fer-mentation. Prevents Indiges-tion, Sour Gassy Stomach

People who suffer from indiges-tion usually have tried pepsin, charcoal, drugs and various dig-estive aids and know these things will not cure their trouble—in some cases do not even give re-lief.

But before giving up to chronic dyspepsia, just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but pure Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powder or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the pow-der or four compressed tablets with your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will in-stantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flat-ulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You can enjoy your meals without a fear of indigestion.—Adv.

NEALE LURED BACK TO NATIONAL GAME

mond greets to make good in other lines.

The announcement was made, not long ago, that Earle (Greasy) Neale, once famous outfielder with the Cincinnati Reds, would be back in the majors in 1929 as assistant to Billy Southworth, new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Neale's return can be attributed only to his love of baseball for, after his retirement from the diamond some years ago, he launched a new career as a football coach and became successful almost at once.

Popular With Students

When Southworth took over the reins at St. Louis this winter, he decided that "Greasy" was the man he needed to act as his first lieutenant in the campaign for another pennant for the Missouri city. He offered Neale a contract and his offer was accepted.

Neale, further, decided to give up coaching football entirely and requested authorities of the University of Virginia, where he has directed the football teams, to release him from the contract he holds with them.

As a tribute to his success on the gridiron students of the Virginia institution met in a protest meeting and stated most emphatically their wish that "Greasy" remain in charge there. As a compromise it was decided to allow an assistant coach to handle the team in the early season games with the understanding that Neale, at the close of the baseball season, would return to the helm at Virginia.

Neale is a college man and starred in both baseball and football while at West Virginia Wesleyan university. He learned his football at this institution and laid the foundation for his major league success in baseball.

In his day he was one of the outstanding outfielders and in 1919 when the Reds won the world series from the Chicago White Sox, he was a mighty factor in the successful drive of the Cincinnati team.

He is an alert, quick thinker, and a student of both football and baseball. Southworth is banking heavily on his assistance in the 1929 pennant war, and it is probable that Neale will prove himself one of the important cogs in Branch Rickey's baseball machine.

He will continue at Virginia in much the same capacity as Judge Wally Steffen occupies at Carnegie Tech. His team will be handled largely by assistants with Neale acting in a general advisory capacity.

Neale's future should be the cause of little worry to the former outfielder. If he fails to make good as a baseball coach—and there are few who feel that he won't succeed—he can always return to college football and find a hearty welcome.

He is likely to remain with the Cardinals as long as Southworth is at the helm in St. Louis, however, and the baseball world should feel his presence strongly in the next few seasons.

GEN. BEACH IN SPEECH BEFORE EXCHANGE CLUB

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 1.—Gen. Lansing H. Beach, was the principal speaker at the noonday luncheon of the Exchange club in Legion hall Wednesday.

"Three years ago, when I was called into consultation on conditions here, I was impressed not only with the present beauties of the bay and surroundings, but with the possibilities of development that were apparent on every hand," General Beach declared. "I knew of no place on any navigable water in the United States that shows better conditions for perfect waterfront residences than around Newport bay. I feel that I can speak comprehensively, having visited every body of navigable water in this country except one river in North Carolina.

"People from the torrid south should flock here for the summer with its cooling breezes, and those from the north for the winter months to bask in the balmy sunshine."

Colonel Leeds explained the large map of the harbor entrance and answered questions.

Among the guests present were C. P. Patton and Tom B. Talbot, of Huntington Beach; Mr. and Mrs. George Peabody, of Los Angeles; Phil Taylor, Less Tubbs, M. L. # Combined Banks To Have Resources Of $600,000,000

MERGER TO BE IN EFFECT BY APRIL 1. BELIEF

In the statement of Friday, January 25, regarding the proposed consolidation of the Los Angeles First National Trust and Savings bank and the Security Trust and Savings bank, it was not possible to give definite figures, which now are available, according to J. K. Hermon, vice president Santa Ana branch of the First National. The two banks will contribute to the consolidated association $47,000,000 of capital assets which shall be mutually acceptable, Hermon said. "The surplus assets of each bank, together with all assets of their respective securities companies, shall be retained by the securities companies for five years to guarantee on each side the assets contributed by each to the consolidation."

Plan New Company

"A new security company will be organized to be owned beneficially by the shareholders of the consolidated bank. The par value of the stock both of the bank and of the new security company will be $25. It is expected that the consolidation will be effective on April 1, at which time the stockholders of the Los Angeles First National Trust and Savings bank will have issued to them 550,000 shares of stock in the consolidated bank. This is the same number of shares which they now hold to the stockholders of the Security Trust and Savings bank there will be issued 528,000 shares, par value $25, for the 120,000 shares, par value $100, now held by them."

"Two thousand shares of the stock of the consolidated association will be sold to the new security company for cash at $100 a share. The stockholders of the consolidated association shall have the right to buy one share for each 10 owned at $100 per share. Thereafter 6000 shares shall be sold to First Securities company and 6000 shares to Security company at $100 per share."

$600,000,000 Resources

"The capital assets of the consolidated bank and the new security company will exceed $500,000,000 and total resources of the bank will be in excess of $600,000,000. For the time being it is proposed that the various operating units of the consolidating banks shall continue to operate much as at present and in general with the same officers and personnel."

"As soon as the necessary changes in the building can be made the central administrative office of the consolidated bank will be located in the Pacific Southwest building, at the corner of Sixth and Spring streets, Los Angeles."

Petitions Seek Removal Of Beach City Councilmen

LONG BEACH, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Petitions asking the recall of all but one councilman are expected to be circulated in this city within the next three or four days.

Next Saturday a petition formulated by the "committee of 2300" will be open for signing. The petition will be directed against Councilmen Alexander, Taylor, Evans and Hicks.

This action is said to be the result of city council's failure to heed the petitions signed by residents of North Long Beach asking the election of O. H. Wolter as representative.

Within the next four days a second petition is expected to be filed, asking the recall of Mayor Hauge, Councilmen Barton, Stakeholder and the newly elected councilman Loretz.

Should these efforts carry their objective, Councilman Jones will be the one remaining member of the executive body.

EDISON AT HIS RUBBER FARM

The spirit and enthusiasm of youth still guide the work of Thomas A. Edison, though he's nearing his 82nd birthday anniversary. The famed inventor here is shown in the garden of his winter home in Fort Meyers, Fla., where he is conducting far-reaching experiments to find a substitute for rubber. The "wizard" works many hours a day in the open air in the full glare of the sub-tropical sun. He will be 82 years old February 11.

MARBLE OPENS NEW QUARTERS HERE TONIGHT

Friends of Marble Motors, Inc., Oakland-Pontiac dealer here, will gather tonight in the firm's new home at 509 East Fourth street, for the formal opening of the showrooms and a preview of the new Pontiac big six.

Marble Motors is anticipating a substantial increase in Oakland-Pontiac interest because of the central location of the showrooms and the attraction the combined Oakland-Pontiac line has for the buyer in the motor car market.

The Pontiac big six models to be shown tonight were driven to Santa Ana from Los Angeles late yesterday afternoon. When they are placed on display tonight Santa Ana will see the latest entry of General Motors in the automotive field.

In addition to numerous mechanical improvements, which give the big six added power, attractive body refinements have enhanced the appearance of the various models. Boasting "big car" features of performance, ease of handling and beauty, the Pontiac big six remains in its former price field.

Charles L. Marble, who will be on hand tonight to greet his friends, entered the automobile field here in April, 1928, when he moved here from Los Angeles to take over the Oakland-Pontiac line.

219 GET PARKING TICKETS IN MONTH

Carrying out their threat to break motorists of their habit of parking overtime in the business districts of the city, Santa Ana police arrested 219 persons during January for this offense, the monthly police report shows.

This is by far the largest number of violators of this particular ordinance ever arrested in one month.

In spite of the wholesale arrests during the last 30 days, violations seem to be just as numerous. The arrests, with two exceptions, were for violation of the one-hour parking law. The greater number of those arrested have appeared in police court here and paid fines of $2.

Register Newsboys Want To Be Friends of Their Subscribers

Another group of Register newsboys is pictured above. The Register carrier boys are working with an enthusiasm with which they never have worked before to increase the number of their customers and build up their routes, as each one of them not only has determined he, himself, will go with the crowd to Catalina, but that he will take some member of his family with him.

The boys carrying and selling newspapers are the coming business men of any community. Many times men have been heard, in public speech, telling the stories of their careers and many times they began with their experience in the distribution of newspapers as carrier boys. Carrying of papers not only is a means of earning, but it is a great business experience and a developer of various virtues, including faithfulness, promptness, accuracy and honesty, which go into the formation of character.

The boys are faithful to their work and endeavor to do it well. Will the subscribers get acquainted with their boys? See if you are on the route of any one of these boys, fasten your eye to his countenance and learn to know him, even appreciate him, for it is very natural for one to be more faithful in his work to a friend than to a stranger. He wants to be your friend. The boys in the picture and their routes are as follows:

New Exchange Officers Are Honored at Ball

New officers of the Exchange club were honored last night when members of that organization and their wives and friends gathered at the Santa Ana Country club for the annual dinner and dance. The new officers include John Ott, president; Clyde Jenken, vice president; Lester Tubbs, secretary; and Charles Pritchard, treasurer.

Dinner tables had been arranged in the solarium and they were gay with their bright spring flowers, daffodils and anemones, the colors of which were carried out in the table appointments.

Gledhill's orchestra provided the music for the series of delightful dances and waltzes that followed. Especially entertaining were the several feature dances which served the guests as a means for meeting one another.

Besides the Santa Ana Exchange members who enjoyed the affair there were representatives from clubs in Long Beach, San Diego, San Bernardino, Riverside and Glendale.

Gene Hays was chairman of the general committee in charge of arrangements for the dance and he was assisted by Gene Douglas who acted as toastmaster at the dinner. Len Eckel, DeWitt Dudley, M. L. Wishon, Bartley Sims, Lester Tubbs, John Ott, C. D. Swanner and Bob Schilling.

Old Fashioned Dinner Is Delightful Affair

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McFadden and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hoy were hosts last night at an old fashioned dinner party held at the McFadden home on North Main street.

Guests were seated at one large table covered with an old fashioned tablecloth and lighted by kerosene lamps. Dishes were of a type that have long since been relegated to back shelves as relics of other days. The pretty bouquet of flowers that centered the table was arranged by Mrs. John A. Henderson and was reminiscent of grandmother's garden.

The delicious dinner was served by the daughters of the hosts, the Misses Edith, Mary, and Anabel McFadden and the Misses Wilma and Jean Hoy.

Guests included the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. McPeak, the Rev. and Mrs. James Grier, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Raitt, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Warren, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Millman, Mrs. Mary Lindsay, Dr. and Mrs. John McAuley, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Henderson.

Past O. E. S. Officers Of Orange County Entertained

Affairs of the Orange County Past Matrons' and Patrons' association, will be directed through the coming year by Mrs. Doris Smith of Orange, who last night was elected to the presidency of the organization while at the same time William J. Dean of Santa Ana was elected advisor, and Mrs. Wanita Snyder of Buena Park, was made secretary-treasurer. This election with its subsequent installation of the new officers, formed an interesting part of the monthly meeting of the Past Matrons and Patrons in the local Masonic temple with Hermosa chapter O. E. S. past officers as hosts.

Seventy-two active and honorary members of the association assembled at the temple for the 6:30 dinner with which the evening's program was launched. It was one of those enjoyable affairs to which each woman guest contributes her choicest dish, and therefore featured a menu that was beyond all criticism. Later the crowd assembled in the chapter room for the business meeting led by Mrs. A. M. Edwards of Fullerton, retiring president, with O. Johnson of Yorba Linda, advisor, and Mrs. Dorothy Ross of Orange, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Doris Smith, Orange, Mrs. Nona Cloyes and William Dean of this city, served as the election committee. Installation ceremonies were conducted by Mrs. Margaret Connor of Fullerton with Mrs. Carrie Drake of Yorba Linda, as pianist.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to program features arranged by James A. Tarpley of the Santa Ana general committee which included Mrs. Cloyes and Mrs. Fannie M. Reeves. Mrs. James Tarpley introduced the various artists, and at the close of the evening presented each one of them with a pretty card case of felt, with a design of bronze beads and little felt flowers, all her own handiwork. The popular Mustel Trio opened the program with well-played ensemble numbers, with Miss Virginia at the piano, and the Misses Nathalie and Evelyn, playing the violin. The twins each played a violin solo also, to the added pleasure of the guests. Little Miss Charlotte Quiggle gave two pretty musical readings with Mrs. Jack Snow at the piano, including the dainty fantasy, "There are Fairies at the Bottom of Our Garden."

Musical readings were chosen also by Chalmers Lindsay, Cleveland and Miss Mabel Pruitt, two talented pupils of Gladys Simpson Shafer, with Mrs. Snow remaining at the piano for their numbers. Mrs. Cleveland gave that amusing "Little Monologue," "To Marry or Not to Marry" followed by "A Lesson with the Fan" to which she gave a charming touch of coquetry. Miss Pruitt's rendering of "Foolish Questions" was equally pleasing, and her second number, "Ain't It Fine This Way" was a bit of cheerful philosophy.

Song numbers added variety to the program, and were given by Mrs. Jessie Johnson with Miss Mary Bruner as accompanist, and Mrs. Pearl Livesey with Mrs. Parkes at the piano. Mrs. Johnson's voice, of rare purity of tone, was well adapted to the group of "songs about roses," which included Calman's "A Rose for Every Heart," "Love Here is My Heart," and "Little Pink Rose" by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Mrs. Livesey, a favorite soloist of the Eastern Star, sweetly sang "Meadowlark" and "I Love a Little Cottage," and the program was concluded by "O Solo Mio" played by the Mustel Trio.

"New Brooms" Will Be Given By Seniors
Drama students in the Santa Ana high school are anticipating the final casting for the 1929 senior play, to be given some time in June by the graduating class. The first meeting of the applicants was held yesterday, when the play, "New Brooms," by Frank Craven, was selected.

Last year the seniors presented "White Collars," a three-act comedy of the home life of a man with a white collar job. The performance packed the auditorium and was a success in every way. Ernest Crozier Phillips, dramatic coach, is hoping for another success this year.

The senior play is one of the big events in the school calendar. Last year, "White Collars" was the choice and in 1927, "Mary Jane's Pa" was presented. "The Goose Hangs High" was the play in 1928. A large number of students are trying out for leads.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Men's Club
Professor DeLestro of Long Beach, a well known mystic, presented an entertaining program at the First Methodist church last night when the Men's club of that church gathered there for the monthly dinner and meeting. Preceding the mystic's address, the Rev. O. Scott McFarland of the First Presbyterian church, gave an interesting talk. Each speaker was introduced by J. W. Estes who presided over the meeting. The members were delighted to have as a guest, the Rev. George A. Warner who has recently returned to Santa Ana from Oregon where he was convalescing following a serious illness. He is much improved in health now. The dinner was served by the north section of the First M. E. Aid society.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Good-bye to the Bean Poles!
I am glad that the tide of public opinion has turned in favor of more normal figures, for what Mother was attempting to do, Daughter did with a vengeance.

Because Mother did without breakfast, Daughter scorned food also. . . . It is any wonder that class averages fell down. . . . that tuberculosis went merrily on its upward way in spite of public health measures. . . . and that other and more drastic things happened to the constitution of growing girls?

As long as young people are growing—and that is up to 20 mostly—three square meals a day are needed to keep up growth and to supply the apparently limitless amount of energy necessary to carry on the activities of the girl of today.

Vitality is at its lowest in the morning and that is the most important meal of the day for a growing child—see to it that breakfast is eaten down to the last crumb.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Date Tapioca Pudding
1 cup minute tapioca
7 cups warm water
1 package of dates
3 cups sugar
1 cup nuts, broken
1 teaspoon salt

Minute tapioca is the kind that cooks in such a short time. Do not attempt to use the bullet tapioca for this recipe.

Wash the tapioca, drain and soak in the whole amount of water for half an hour. Wash and stone the dates, cut in convenient pieces and put with the broken nuts in a buttered pudding dish. Add the sugar to the tapioca mixture and stir until dissolved.

Don't forget the salt, even if I almost did. Pour the mixture over the dates and nuts and bake in a very slow oven for two hours. Let it chill and jelly before serving with plain cream.

The full recipe is too much for the ordinary family. Half the recipe serves six or eight very generously.

The full recipe, as given, has about 2400 calories in its keeping. Half of it served to six people gives an individual calorie total of 200, cream extra. This is a concentrated form of carbohydrate food representing almost the total

Willard Graduates Are Honored Guests of P.-T. A.

The 71 boys and girls who will graduate from Frances E. Willard junior high school at the end of this semester were guests last night at a delightful banquet held for them at the Rose Arbor Inn by the Frances E. Willard Parent-Teacher association.

As each boy and girl arrived he or she was presented with a picture. These pictures were matched in order to find dinner partners for the affair.

The long tables were gay with their decorations of blue and white in which the numerals of the graduating class, 1929, was used. Tall blue candles in crystal holders completed the appointments. The tables headed by Mrs. G. W. Leibe. Mrs. John S. McCarty, president of the Willard P.-T. A., represented that organization at the affair and she presided over the dinner.

Special guests included Will S. Kellogg, principal of the junior high school, and Mrs. Kellogg, Mrs. Edith Thatcher, vice-principal, and Miss Grace Smiley, Miss Laura Morris, and Miss Dorthea Smith, class teachers.

Following the dinner singing and dancing were enjoyed with Miss Mona Gilbert at the piano.

"Soon after this they spoke of sundry things, As fell to purpose of this adventure. And, playing, interchange their rings, Of which I cannot tell n scripture." —Chaucer.

Throughout the ages, rings have stood as symbols of pledged troth and tokens of remembrance. It seems a fitting custom, the exchanging of rings between maid and man on the occasion of their engagement. This day will thus be permanently commemorated. Ewert's, in keeping with this reviving custom, offer a lovely group of men's heavy rings, appropriately set with various month stones.

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

Even the etiquet books have no chapter on how a husband whose wife has attempted to kill him should deport himself when first meeting the lady after his attempted assassination. Ralph Wood of Detroit, whose wife, Grace, is charged with hiring gunmen to kill him, was up against this fine question in etiquet when he faced his wife in the homicide room at police headquarters after her arrest. He solved it like this—

A MAN'S WAY

"Hello, Grace."

Report has it that she hung her head as he continued, "It is sort of awkward, isn't it? I don't know what to say, Grace."

One wonders if this meeting isn't typically male. If the tables had been reversed, the wife whose life had almost been forfeit to her own husband's hate would have sprung at him, reviled, reproached, threatened, wept, done anything except murmur, "Well, it is kinda awkward."

"DRAT 'EM"

This is probably an expression of no inward grace, but nothing so riles me as infant revivalists. My spleen hurls itself upon the juvenile prophet in the news right now—3-year-old Helen Campbell who is attempting to "save" New Yorkers. This child admits that she has gone to no movie nor theater nor dance hall, nor read anything but the Bible, and her school books since she "got converted." And yet she doesn't differ so much from more mature preachers who, knowing nothing or little of the ways of the world, try to convince others of wrong in these joys.

NEW DIVORCE RUMOR

Colonel and Mrs. Henry Hudson Rogers, parents of their possibly more famous daughter, Millicent Rogers, one-time Countess Salm, and now Mrs. Arturo Ramos, are contemplating a divorce, rumor has it, so interpreting the stay of the Rogerses in Paris. Rumor has it, too, that the dissension after more than 20 years of married life is because of quarrels brought about by the famous matrimonial mix-up of daughter Millicent and Count Salm of blessed memory. If this is so, it isn't the first time that parents have quarreled even to divorce over their respective attitudes towards their offspring.

THE TINYMITES STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNUCK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tots and Tinsies played a while. The giant then began to smile. I'm sure the Tinsies, thought he, will get a big surprise. Those Tots will surely play some trick. I know them well, and they are sick. What happens soon is bound to open up the Tinsies' eyes.

And then to all the bunch he said, "You little fellows go ahead and have a good time by yourselves. I have some work to do. Out in the fields I'll hoe my corn until I'm feeling quite forlorn. And then, if you are still around, I'll hurry back to you."

"All right," said Scouty. "Have no fear. I'm pretty sure that we'll be here." He didn't know, however, what the queer Tots had in mind. And so the giant walked away. The rest continued with their play. Then one wee Tot said, "Let's look 'round, and see what we can find."

They rushed into a woods nearby, and soon they all heard one Tot cry, "Oh, I know where a basket is. It is a big one, too. The rest of you can wait right here. I'll go and get it. It's right near. Sit down and rest your weary bones. I'll bring it back to you."

The Tot rushed off, but not for long. He came back shouting, "Look, I'm strong. I found the great big

WALKER
Making motion pictures 13,000 feet above sea level has been accomplished for the first time in "Avalanche." Zane Grey's dramatic story of the West in which Paramount presents Jack Holt as the hero, "Avalanche" will be the attraction at the Walker theater for two days starting today.

JACK HOLT IN "AVALANCHE" A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

The unit of 100 players engaged in filming "Avalanche" under the direction of Otto Brower went to the San Francisco Peaks, north of Flagstaff, Arizona.

Working far above the timber line in rarified atmosphere made filming difficult. Baclanova, the noted Russian actress who plays her first western role, was particularly affected by the scarcity of oxygen.

Rain and hail storms coming up without warning interfered with the company's work during its three weeks' stay in Arizona.

BROADWAY
Alan Hale and Renee Adoree are co-featured by Pathe in an elaborate synchronized picture of carnival life, "The Spieler."

"You bet we will," brave Clowny cried. "We're always glad to take a ride. I hope we all are tickled with the way the basket goes." The Tinsies then took one jump and reached the basket with a thump.

"Where are we bound for?" Coppy asked. A Tot snapped, "Goodness knows."

Last Saturday, the West End entertained 1040 patrons, the largest crowd ever greeted in that theater during an afternoon and evening run of pictures. But Manager Buell anticipates an even larger crowd for "The Big Parade," which is famous all over the world.

"Greatest Screen Lover," is seen in a new and different role. His make-up is the "mud pack" of the trenches. All the disfigurements of "active service" are realized. Those who have seen the picture say that begrimed and dirty he is just as easy to look at—and just as compelling—as when dandified.

The entire story is dramatic and compelling. Those who have seen the picture, will welcome the opportunity to see it again, while those who failed to see it at its first run, must not miss it this time.

YOST SPURGEON

If love levels all ranks, it also overshadows events of world import, so far as lovers are concerned. And as most of the world is composed of lovers and all the world loves them, it is not surprising that "Lilac Time," First National's big new special which is showing at the Yost Spurgeon theater with Colleen Moore as the star, enraptures by reason of the love story it tells to even a greater extent than because of the World War background.

The work of the star is of that quality which defies the critic's analysis. She simply is the character she portrays. It is more than acting; it is consummate art. Miss Moore has added to her list of screen portrayals one that can be definitely assigned to a place at the very apex.

The "Revue Orientale" on the stage, features "Kasimir Unatana," prince of the mystic Brotherhood of Muzhawada.

SPENT $1500 TRYING TO GET WELL

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Relief

This startling letter from an ex-service man will interest everyone who suffers from constipation:

"I was discharged after the World War with heart trouble and bad stomach. I had saved about $1500. Since then I've spent that sum and a lot more on doctoring and operations and medicines. I always was bothered with constipation.

"I told my wife to get some kind of light breakfast food and I would try it. She came home with a small package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I ate it for breakfast, lunch and dinner, about a common tea-saucer full with milk at each meal. I have been doing this for about a month. I have stopped taking dope (medicines). I work 9 to 12 hours. I have a good appetite. And now I am gaining flesh and believe I am getting well."

GEORGE C. O'CONNELL, Barker, N. Y.

Cleanse your system of constipation's poisons. Thousands have regained their old-time vigor and vim, stopped constipation forever, by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Relief is guaranteed. ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. 100% effective—doctors recommend it. Ready-to-serve with milk or cream. Use in cooking. See the recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers. Served in leading hotels and restaurants—dining cars.

When the sun goes south for the winter eat canned fruits and vegetables, sweetened for enjoyment

GLANCE at a chart of the United States showing all of the fruits and vegetables with the time when they come on the market, and you will be amazed at how many long months there are that are almost completely blank.

This of course means that during those months the sun goes south for the winter. It is the concern of every man, woman and child to see that health does not go south with the sun.

Viewed in this true light, the canning factories and sugar refineries of this country extend the season of fruits and vegetables into the winter. They place the health-giving fruits and vegetables, together with their acids, minerals and vitamins, in protecting cans, and place these in every grocery store throughout the United States where we can buy them with almost no difficulty at all, and the sugar refineries produce the sweetening to make these healthful foods delicious to the taste.

During the long months of winter every meal from breakfast to dinner may well contain some health-giving canned foods. Canned fruits, jams, jellies and preserves for breakfast, and canned fruits and vegetables for luncheon and dinner.

People are living longer than they used to. Isn't part of this probably due to the increasing use in the winter-time of canned foods? Eat enough of these healthful foods made enjoyable with sugar. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

Cudahy's Puritan Bacon

Finer Flavor

Cudahy's Puritan Bacon is unrivalled. Finer flavor and greater tenderness have made it famous.

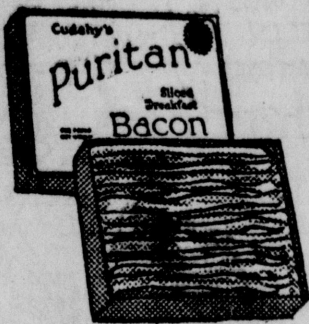

Puritan owes its distinguished qualities to the special method of curing these choice young meats. This method diffuses the rich meat juices in a natural way without forcing or hurrying. It is therefore uniformly sweet, mild, tender and delicious. Broiled or fried, its very aroma tempts even the most delicate appetite.

Try Puritan and see how good it is—a tempting, wholesome, nutritious food, easily digested; fine for growing children as well as for grown-ups. Puritan Bacon is a delightful adjunct in the preparation of meat dishes, salads, etc. At your dealer's.

SAFEWAY STORES

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

A Meeting that Means Much to Southern California

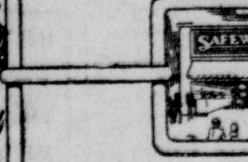

The annual meeting of Safeway executives is being held in Los Angeles this week. From all over the West, the Middle West, South and Southwest, and East to the Atlantic seaboard, 150 of the keenest minds, engaged in the distributing of foods in the United States, are gathered here to discuss problems of vital interest to every family in the vast territory we serve. These men represent about 5,000 stores and markets doing a business at the rate of approximately $180,000,000 annually.

At this meeting, decisions will be made involving the expenditure of millions upon millions of dollars during 1929. The important thing to Southern California is, that a very large part of these many millions will be spent right here in this section for locally grown and manufactured food products. As a result, during 1929, hundreds of carloads of California grown citrus and deciduous fruits, nuts, farm and garden products, and canned and manufactured foods of all kinds will be distributed to consumers, through Safeway and affiliated stores, from the Atlantic seaboard to the Hawaiian Islands and from the Mexican border to Alaska and Canada.

Safeway is the largest individual buyer of California grown and manufactured food products in the West. Our distributing facilities are so large and cover such a vast territory that our purchases in California have come to constitute a goodly percentage of the income which this state derives from its farms, orchards, gardens, and food manufacturing industries. Essentially a California concern, Safeway is proud of the part which its vast facilities enable it to play in the development of this great state and the West as a whole.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Wall Street entered the new month today with confidence apparently restored. Credit appeared ample although it was necessary to make up call money to 7 per cent nearly through the session.

The outlook was for easier money as soon as the February 1 interest and dividend checks were out of the way, and the market was buoyed during the first half of the session.

After prices had been bid up one to nearly 12 points it was not unusual that considerable profit taking should follow. This sort of selling was aggravated by the fact that money, so that in the late dealings some irregularity was noticeable.

Chrysler Motors, Packard, General Motors and other stocks were held up after they had been running behind most of the session.

Oil, Utilities and Motor equipment issues were in better demand today. Rubbers also were held up for a time in early dealings the market represented the strongest front so far this year, improving an increase of 1 1/2 to 2 points to a record in brokerage loans.

Dealings were above a five million share pace, but fell off in the afternoon. The list appeared tottering in the late trading. Radio Corporation was whittled by 1/4 point in share.

Shares compared with its previous close of $37.25, or a net gain of $2.75 per share.

EVENING SALUTATION

Consequences are unpaying. Our deeds carry their terrible consequences, quite apart from any fluctuations that went before—consequences that are hardly ever confined to ourselves.

—George Eliot.

WHAT TO DO WITH TROTZKY

According to the dispatches, Leon Trotsky the great Russian soviet leader will be banished to Angora. The plan is to send him to Constantinople and keep him in the office of the soviet embassy, a prisoner. He would not be permitted to leave the embassy except in company with a Russian and a Turkish guard.

The facts as they come out of Russia concerning the attitude of the soviet government on Trotsky are very meager. The soviet government refuses to affirm or deny the story concerning the proposed banishment. It is singular on the face of it to think of an embassy being used as a place of imprisonment for what the government may consider the enemies of the nation. In international law the quarters of the embassy have always been considered the territory of the foreign government. In it all the laws of the foreign government apply and the only obligation upon the local government is that of protection from outside interference. But we have never heard of the embassy being used practically as a prison and it is a singular use to which to place it, to say the least. We believe it is incompatible with the very purpose for which the embassy exists for if one enemy of the nation can be put there for one reason, another can be placed there for another reason.

The embassy instead of being the quarters of the best representatives of the nation owning the embassy might actually develop into a penal colony and a source of great annoyance if it did not actually develop into an institution of sabotage. A nation might receive Trotsky as an exile from his own country, but the placing with him of a Turkish guard is making Turkey a part of the administration of the soviet republic's law enforcement machinery.

Evidently Russia is laboring under great embarrassment. If it were anyone lesser than Trotsky the government might place him up against the wall and soon end it but the government cannot afford to make a martyr of Trotsky as it could easily be the beginning of the end by arousing too much sentiment among the populace. On the other hand it is disagreeable to have him around. His ideas foment too much discord for those who are satisfied with the government as it is.

A scientist has returned from Central America with the tale of a tree in Guatemala that gives milk. That's nothing. Farmers have been getting it out of wells for years.

TRIALS OF A COLLEGE PRESIDENT

The resignation of President Little of the University of Michigan calls attention to the trials of a college president. One of our college presidents recently expressed the wish that he might be the warden of the penitentiary to which the alumni never came back or the head of an orphan asylum to which the parents never came. Between his trustees, his faculty, and the student body, the college president of the day has to steer a very even course. The president of a college who has a high ideal before him must be wise and diplomatic beyond the ability of most men if he is to attain his influence and carry on.

What lies behind the resignation of President Little is easily surmised. A vigorous, masterful man, progressive educationally, wants to carry out his program, and wants to do it immediately. Regents wedded to the existing system, and reluctant to move. A faculty for the most part unwilling to follow. A student body partly loyal and partly hostile. There you get the combination which is hard to beat. And apparently this is the combination that has beaten President Little of Michigan. And it is a combination that is apt to beat any college president.

All of which goes to show that progress, to quote Tennyson's familiar phrase, "walks on pained feet." The impatient ones, those who would usher in a new era at 7 o'clock Monday morning, have always been compelled to pay the price. Slowly, if their program has worth, they will see it worked out, but they themselves are not in at the end of the race. President Little has had such a program. Without considering the natural inertia of humankind, he has tried to force it through, with the result that after three years he finds himself, by the logic of circumstances, forced out. Yet we may be sure that if his program has worth, the very fact that his withdrawal has been forced because of it, lifts it into publicity, and another will carry it to its end. Such is the way of the world. Fortunately, President Little's economic independence relieves him of the anxiety of the man who needs a job to maintain himself and his family.

King Amanullah had to flee his throne in Afghanistan when natives rebelled at his reforms. But he scored a victory for "new fangled ideas" just the same—he escaped in an airplane.

"IF YOU AIN'T AGOIN' TO DIE"

Local Kiwanians and guests who heard a talk on fatalism Wednesday, will be especially interested in an episode which occurred in New York the other day. One Peter Backe, who was sleepy, sat on a bench in a subway station waiting for his train. He dozed and nodded, then he stood up so as to keep awake to catch his train. He swayed. The train thundering in failed to rouse him and he fell forward onto the tracks. Three cars rumbled over him before the brakes stopped the train.

When an emergency squad arrived and a member of the crew, fortifying himself for the horrible sight he anticipated, crawled under the train to disentangle the body, he was astonished to hear a snore. He grabbed Peter by the legs and pulled him forth still snoring but unhurt. It was some little time before the regular routine for rescuing and caring for people who have fallen under trains could be stopped. But when it was, in the hospital, the doctor reported that the still unconscious Peter was just having a natural nap. He had become wedged between the tracks and the train passed over him.

"If you ain't agoin' to die, you ain't agoin' to die."

THE CRUISER BILL

The cruiser bill is experiencing rough weather. The country is being heard from. The same influences are at work which put over the Peace Pact. Senator Jim Reed, when badgered for voting for the Peace Pact, after his expressed disapproval of the whole measure, is reported to have said that he voted for it because he did not want to be burned in effigy in every Missouri town.

The probabilities are that the proponents of the cruiser bill will escape the wrath of their constituents by a compromise. It is yet quite uncertain that the bill will go through at all. That seems at present the prevailing opinion in Washington. But if it does go through, many of the Senators who are in favor of the bill as it now reads may save their face by voting to eliminate the time limit clause. This would project the building of the cruisers far enough into the future for the United States and Great Britain to come to an understanding in the matter of naval limitation, thus making unnecessary the building of the cruisers after all. Already eight ships are being built, which, with fifteen more authorized, would put the United States in the lead. Of course, Great Britain, without some agreement, would not let that go without increasing her list of cruisers. Then the race would be on.

If Hoover is really in earnest in finding out what is wrong with the prohibition situation, he ought to appoint a committee of alienists. They can find out almost anything.

CAPISTRANO-ELSINORE ROAD

The survey of the San Juan Capistrano-Elsinore road, scheduled to start next week, is cause for satisfaction and rejoicing. The road will be the culmination of a long-felt and widely-felt desire. At present the only way for people in this section to reach many popular vacation points is through the hurdle of Santa Ana canyon which, while beautiful, sometimes is so crowded with home-coming or vacation-bound motorists as to be a hurdle of no mean hazard. A road from San Juan Capistrano to Elsinore will divert some of this traffic and at the same time provide another motor road which will be extremely popular with motorists because of the points it will reach and the beauty and variety of the road itself.

The road will supply a new circuit for short motor trips, from San Juan Capistrano to points in Riverside county and returning through Santa Ana canyon. We believe the road is so popular that there will be considerable impatience over the length of time necessary for its construction. The whole county owes a debt of gratitude to the San Juan Capistrano Chamber of Commerce and to Mr. Carl Hankey, former chairman of their roads committee, for their indefatigable labor on this project.

Give Honor to Brave Sea Rescuers

Pasadena Star-News

Well may Congress give vote of appreciation, as is proposed, to the officers and crew of the liner "America" for "heroic conduct and noble service" in rescuing alive thirty-two Italian sailors from the "Florida." The story of this thrilling adventure in stormy seas rivals a tale of fiction. And to Harry Manning, chief officer of the lifeboat, and the eight men who went with him on that perilous mission, belong the highest praise. The rescue was made under death-defying conditions, in circumstances that were the most desperate. The leader of the rescuers frankly admits that he did not expect to succeed—that he expected to be lost, with all who went with him. And yet their intrepid little mite of humanity had the courage and the knowledge of the sea to worst the elements when they were at their worst. When asked how he selected the eight men who went with him in the lifeboat—asked if he called for volunteers, Harry Manning replied: "Everyone volunteered; I could have filled forty boats." Which shows that there was no lack of heroes on the "America."

Harry Manning ascribes the success of the adventure to co-operation. He said: "It was all a matter of co-operation. The Italians did just as they were told and helped at every opportunity and everyone worked together. It was a perfect example of co-operation."

While co-operation was such a vital factor in this epic of the sea, it is well to remember that it also is oftentimes vital in matters less adventurous in everyday life on land.

Elucidating the First Lesson In Journalism

San Francisco Chronicle

Every journalist in a high school class in journalism knows that only when the man bites the dog is it news. So there must be several thousand young journalists in and about San Francisco waiting for more light on the news from Milwaukee which grew out of a dog biting a man. The man happened to be a policeman who was trying to catch the dog, but our correspondent does not intimate that the officer was trying to bite the dog. Yet that seems to be the only explanation of Eugene Stark's laughter over the incident. Eugene has been fined $25 for his levity. Still, some details are missing. Laughter is hardly a misdemeanor, even in Wisconsin, though there are times when the state's sense of humor is rather cramped. The fact that the fine was imposed by Judge Edgar Bark also has some esoteric bearing on the case. We leave it to the young journalists to work out.

They Pay Doubly

In a way, they are benefactors, those who forget to get their license plates on time. Last year they contributed to the State of California many thousands of dollars, thus relieving the general taxpayer of that much in burdens. This year they are headed in the same direction.

Thursday of this week is the last day upon which license plates are to be sold at the three dollar rate. After that, it is double price. The streets are proof of the fact that many are putting off until the last moment that annual visit to the bureau window. How many benefactors are to be born of procrastination?

SOLID COMFORT

There appears to be doubt if alcohol served in any but liquid form is violative of the Volstead law.

Let the Demon emit a Hurrah!
While the Dry Brothers grumble and storm,
For Rum may comply with the law
If it's served in solidified form.
Our national source of contention again
May arouse a Congressional bicker
For the friends of the little brown jug now maintain
That only a liquid is liquor.

Serving alcohol up in a pill
Which the buyer can swallow or chew
To extract the old tang of the still,
May be perfectly legal to do.
And while such a method may slightly impair
The old fashioned tongue-tickling flavor,
The stick and the kick will be sure to be there
With all of their dynamic savor.

If wallows like battering rams
Composed of the strongest post-war
Can be cooked into jellies and jams
And sold in the grocery store,
The person who drinks for the love of a tide,
In a pause in the day's occupation
May quickly be able to step high and wide
And not break the laws of the nation.

No thought Mr. Volstead appears
To have had of this cute little scheme
For doling out whiskey and beers
Disguised as blancmange or ice cream.
And if his adroit constitutional plan
For curbing the bibulous brother
Proves only a flop, this assiduous man
Must sit down and think up another.

Dr. Frank Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

WHY?

Perhaps the most important word in the language, one that most marks our intellectual capacity, is the word WHY. It is the key that opens the door to the discovery. People that never wonder why have never found out much, for inventions and discoveries do not come casually to the indifferent. Thousands of people saw apples fall before Newton deduced from that phenomenon the law of gravitation. You might call it idle curiosity, but it is the curiosity of a virile mind that led Michael Faraday to wonder what a piece of metal would do held between two magnets. The answer to that question led to the electric motor.

The ignorant man wonders, but he wonders at the remarkable and unusual. The educated man or the sage wonders at the usual. He is always challenging apparent facts. He has long ago discovered that many of the things that the world accepts as facts are mere appearances.

For ages the world took the cycle of the seasons and the phases of the moon for granted, until somebody got to wondering about it and discovered the revolution of the earth and the movement of the heavenly bodies.

Scientists are poking about with the microscope among the atoms. You might say they are only wanting to see what they can find. Yet they have a noble curiosity and, from their microscopical discoveries, they have lengthened by many years the span of human life by finding out the causes of many diseases.

In the age of miracles people saw the power of God only in extraordinary visitations and miraculous happenings. In this age of science they see the power of God in the events of everyday life.

Thoughts On Mod Life

By Glenn Frank

CONSERVATIVE MAN

Man is essentially a conservative animal.

Only by super-human salesmanship on the part of some rebel or sub-human stupidity on the part of some ruler can the average man be induced to take to the road of radicalism.

It is this fact that gives continuity to the story of mankind.

Despite the dramatic revolutions that dot the pages of history, the vast majority of men and the vast majority of customs continue in the same grooves generation after generation.

Man forms his habits casually, but he fights for them, once they are formed, as if they were God given and sacred.

There are no quick reforms.

A study of most fundamental reforms will show that the idea had to be implanted and grow in the mind of a whole generation before it flowered in actual change of established policy and practice.

And, as in the case of prohibition, the practice stays in the old groove long after the policy has shifted to a new groove.

MAN

Most reforms that succeed represent but a slight shift from the old base.

Martin Luther launches a Reformation, but his agreements with the Church he left outbuck his disagreements.

The American Fathers rebel against the English Crown, but they set up a Republic that, in its basic philosophy, adheres to the aristocratic conception of leadership by the best.

Man hates to be inconvenienced. Man is a comfort-loving animal.

Man finds it comfortable to worship at the shrine of custom, and, as I have said, unless super-human salesmanship or sub-human stupidity stirs him or stings him from his easy chair, he does not go rioting with the radicals.

This fact should make the radicals less cocksure about the possibility of organizing Utopias over the week end.

This fact should make the reactionaries less fearful that a single non-conformist idea will, if expressed, wreck society.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

LABORING CHILDREN

Should a child work? Of course, people of this land that they are not—where would you place them? Work is the salvation of the race. Life as a perpetual holiday would be unbearable. But children who work are to work for the joy of the working, for the growth the labor brings them. I have never found any employers of child labor who were interested in that sort of child labor. All I know anything about hired children because they were cheaper than adults.

Now children must work if they are to have any clear ideas about the world they live in. Sitting on a bench listening to a teacher talk is all right as far as it goes but it does not go far enough. When the teacher stops, and the stop ought to come early, the child ought to begin. The teacher's lesson ought to be an inspiration to the children's action.

Schools and homes today do not offer enough scope for action. There is a dearth of doing in this generation. The schools are still set for listening, for quiet, for inaction. The good child is still the quiet child. We have still to accept the fact that the intelligent child is the active child.

We can offer activity to the children of the elementary school if we are willing to pay for the equipment and the teachers. We have begun to do that now. Then we should be ready to tie up that habit of industry, fasten the habit of varying book knowledge by experiment and construction, in the high schools. Too many high school people still consider any work with the hands as beneath their lofty plane. The facts are on the other side. Our adolescent children are crying for active work and are being driven out of the secondary schools by the silence and the listening and the examinations of the old school tradition.

Why not bring life, today's active, speeding, thrilling deeds into the classrooms. The children of today are driving motors across the country, through the skies. They are catching messages out of the atmosphere. They are living more intensely than ever their teachers lived but the schools refuse to budge from the days of Dobbin.

We make speeches about child labor. We point to the children in the factories, to the children whose lives are being drained in the farms. If all the laboring children were released today—and it is a crying shame to the
